Subject: Request to Attend the 2027 Ignite Leadership Conference

I would like to attend the 10th annual Ignite Leadership Conference on January 21, 2027, in Tupelo.

For a decade, Ignite has brought world-class leadership speakers to North Mississippi and provided thousands of professionals with practical ideas, inspiration and tools they can take back to their organizations. The 2027 conference continues that tradition with an exceptional lineup featuring John C. Maxwell, Mark Cole and Valorie Burton.

Here are a few ways my attendance could benefit both me and our organization:

- Strengthen my leadership skills. I will hear proven leadership principles and practical strategies from some of the most respected voices in leadership today.
- Bring new ideas back to our organization. Ignite provides fresh perspectives on leading people, building strong teams, navigating change and creating a healthy workplace culture.
- Improve my effectiveness. The conference is designed to provide ideas and tools I can apply to my work, decision-making and relationships with others.
- Learn from other professionals. Ignite brings together leaders from businesses and organizations throughout the region, creating opportunities to exchange ideas and learn how others are approaching similar challenges.
- Return energized and ready to apply what I learned. Ignite combines practical leadership development with the kind of inspiration that can renew focus, purpose and motivation.

Over the past 10 years, Ignite has built a proven track record of bringing nationally and internationally recognized speakers to our region. This year offers a particularly unique opportunity to learn directly from John C. Maxwell, one of the world's most recognized leadership experts, along with Mark Cole and Valorie Burton.

I believe attending Ignite would be a worthwhile investment in my professional development and in the value I can bring back to our organization.

Sincerely,
